Introducing gStables

gStables are decentralized stablecoins on the Tron Blockchain, tracking the price of real-world currencies. Powered by the goStables Protocol.

gStables are over-collateralized with USDD.

gStables can be swapped from/to USDD anytime, at their real-world exchange rate*

*+ 0.3% Protocol fee

Over-collateralized with USDD

US Decentralized Dollar (USDD) is pegged 1:1 with the price of USD and is over-collateralized with a basket of crypto assets including:

USDD can be swapped for other popular crypto assets and stablecoins anytime, across multiple blockchains.

Use gStable Vaults to kickstart online businesses and earn as the protocol grows

Liquidity Provisioning

Expand your liquidity depth by pairing gStables with other stablecoins and crypto assets in localised markets

Decentralized Banking

Integrate gStables with other onchain protocols to enable sustainable yield generation

Limitless Possibilities...

Our Vision

"The goStables Protocol serves as a building block on Tron's DeFi Infrastructure. Starting within the Caribbean, the protocol enables broader access to stablecoins and the greater blockchain/Web3 economy. This opens the gateway for many to accept payments online easily along with an access route to foreign currencies (via USDD)."
